15:32:46 From dnbulloc@iu.edu to Everyone : As a former transfer student, I think another possible mechanism for this is that you miss many of the formative social bonding activities of starting students, and so you do not have as robust of a social network.

15:36:41 From Bradley Levinson to Everyone : Agreed. Kudos to Kurt and J/EPC for such a solid, legible presentation

15:36:56 From Kari Johnson to Everyone : I have no hard data on this, but anecdotally, my experience has been that transfer students need more support on getting started here. I suspect that I will personally have far more of these reports to do under this policy than I currently do, but I am happy to do this reporting. I think it's the right thing to do.
